OUR STORY

A double garage and a tiny office within a home in Weltevredenpark, Johannesburg, saw the start of DWR Distribution in May 2006.

Duncan Riley established the company after a ten-year involvement in the entertainment industry, and needless to say, the initial few months of embarking on a new venture were trying. Looking back it's with great thankfulness to God, family and old friends in the industry to see just how DWR has grown in a short period. To the team who make up DWR, we appreciate your wonderful attitude.

ABOUT DWR

The Stores

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE people

Once the equipment is sold, whether it's simply "moving boxes" or completing an installation, the relationship on service and support begins. DWR strive to serve the industry with dedication and would like to be known as the team that go the extra mile. For us, business and life is all about relationships. Thank you to everyone who has helped make our dream a reality.
