

Absen flourishing in SA

Absen users in South Africa were invited to attend a three-day training session with Ricky Qiu from Absen at local distributor DWR Distribution earlier this year.

The ACE Training (Absen Accredited Certified Engineering) was attended by some twenty delegates from both the rental and install markets, with the aim of imparting practical user knowledge to operate and set up screens as well as fault-finding.

“The Absen panels have taken off beyond our wildest imagination,” said Schalk Botha, sales representative at DWR. “The panels are user friendly, reliable, cost effective and easy to maintain.”

Said Ricky Qiu from Absen, “The training went very well and was much better than I had anticipated. The course made sense to the delegates, and I can see a positive future for Absen in South Africa.”

Ricky will be in the country again in November, this time to demonstrate the new Absen Polaris Lite range. Dates will be confirmed, but for more information, contact Schalk Botha at schalk@dwrdistribution.co.za
