

DWR Distribution were delighted to receive the Avolites

Outstanding Technical Support Award 2010. How chuffed we were back in South Africa when a photo of the award was e-mailed to us by Duncan Riley, who is currently in the UK with Robert Izzett and Bruce Riley, to break the news.

Nick Britz at the DWR office – with a copy of the award! “I would like to thank my staff,” said Duncan. “I know how hard you work and it’s an honour when your supplier acknowledges it.

DWR will strive to do better and better. Thank you to Avolites for this wonderful recognition and a big thank you to all our friends in the industry – those passionate Avolites users – for your support.
