

Can't wait to see Quincy from MA

Posted on July 8, 2019

Qincy, officially known as Michael Strathmann, will be in South Africa to attend Mediatech 2019. Having visited South Africa on numerous occasions, he has left his mark in our hearts and we really can't wait to see him again. Qincy provides technical support at MA Lighting.

What's your favourite dinosaur?

Hahaha- what a question! Never thought about it! I think I choose one of the early birds, like Confuciusornis or so, as I am not into reptiles so much, neither do I like to eat a ton of meat per hour ☹

If someone were to give you anything in the world for your birthday, what would you like it to be?

Health for sure, as that's the most important.

If you mean something worldly- a Harley Davidson Panhead engine would be appreciated.

If you were forced to choose another career, what would it be?

Hmmm, set design is something that fascinates me, so next time, I would go more into the direction of design than to choose the technical way...
