

Date Jonkman from Prolyte ready for the action at Mediatech

If someone made a movie of your life would it be a drama, a comedy, a romantic-comedy, action film, or science fiction? We asked Date Jonkman, Distribution Manager at Prolyte Group this question.

He answered, "If someone made a movie of my life it certainly would be an action film. There is never a dull moment. I can't sit still while there's always something to do or somebody who needs help. It often leads me into beautiful and the most unexpected situations. Title of my film? "Roll up your sleeves!"

Love that! Thanks Date and we look forward to spending some time with you at Mediatech!
