

DiGiCo in the corporate environment

Industry-leading digital mixing with maximum ROI

From small company gatherings to the most ambitious corporate functions, the key to making the most of the corporate events market is being heard but never seen.

For production companies seeking to deliver a seamlessly professional service whilst benefiting from maximum return on investment, the only name that matters is DiGiCo.

Ranging between compact and affordable digital mixing consoles such as the S21 up to the immense power and channel count of the SD7, the most trusted large format mixing desk for live sound, DiGiCo has the solution you need to ensure your corporate customers not only come back for more but spread the word to win you more business.

No other digital console offers the feature set, brand recognition or sheer ROI horsepower.

To ensure your corporate client list continues to grow, there is only one choice – DiGiCo.
