DWR is pleased to welcome Werner Nieman to the team.

DWR Distribution is excited to welcome Werner Nieman to the team, bringing with him a wealth of experience that will further strengthen our role in the system integration market.

With a strong background in both the retail distribution space and houses of worship, Werner joins DWR as an Audio Visual Sales Consultant while still being able to support clients with comprehensive audio, video, and lighting solutions.

Before joining DWR, Werner spent over two years as Operations Manager at Mosaïek Church, where he led both the technical and facilities teams overseeing both the church's technical needs and its event company, Mosaïek Lifestyle where various events were hosted from live TV shows like Idols to high-profile local and international. He also worked for many years on a volunteer basis for Word and Life Church in Boksburg. Over the course of his career in retail, he has taken on key industry roles including Training Manager, Technical Product Manager, and Product Application Specialist at companies such as MIDI Music, Wild and Marr and Prosound. His technical knowledge, passion for people, and commitment to service make him an excellent addition to the DWR family.

“Werner’s positive, can-do attitude, makes him a tremendous asset to our team,” said Robert Izzett, Sales Director at DWR Distribution. “He’s held in high regard within both the church and live events industries, and we’re confident he’ll add significant value as we expand our solutions in the corporate sector. We’re excited to welcome him aboard and look forward to what lies ahead.”

On a personal note, Werner is a dedicated family man and a passionate music lover.
