DWR Distribution is pleased to be the new LSC Lighting Systems agent in South Africa. These well priced consoles and dimmer units will cater exceptionally well for schools, churches, smaller venues and architectural installations.

"We needed to find cost effective equipment for the smaller type venues and installations and looked at the LSC range," comments Dan Riley from DWR. "I've known about them for years, and after contacting Pete Floyd in international sales, I was supplied with our first dimmers and control."

Commented Pete Floyd: "LSC Lighting Systems are very proud to be associated with DWR. It's refreshing to be working with such a forward thinking company who remain passionate about the level of service and support they can offer the customer."

DWR are more than satisfied with the quality and build of the units and believe the product will do very well. "We are already awaiting our second order from Australia and in the time being are working on a couple of installations for architectural lighting," said Dan.
