DWR Training at a glance

Posted on January 17, 2022

DWR Distribution is delighted to invite you to join us for training and a few upcoming events during 2022.

While a basic year planner has been drawn up, invitations and information for each course will be communicated closer to the time. Please note, pre-bookings will be made quarterly, and dates are subject to change. While we aim to stick to the schedule there may be a few updates along the way, and we trust you will understand!

All courses, excluding an international rigging course we hope to bring to South Africa later in the year, will cost R300 per day. On completion of the course, each delegate will be refunded.
