DWR Distribution is excited to welcome Chris Duys to the marketing team!

Chris looks forward to capturing your moments, sharing content and news and using his skill in storytelling.

“My motto has always been, ‘If you haven’t learned something new today, you’ve wasted your day,’” he shares. We have a feeling that we will be learning from him too.

Believe it or not, Chris still manages to squeeze in time for hobbies! Married to the lovely Angela, who’s no stranger to DWR herself, Chris enjoys activities like snorkelling, wildlife, and even hitting the golf course every now and then. But what really gets his heart racing? Woodworking and fishing – two passions he can’t get enough of.
