Norwood Productions, a South African company that offers a full turnkey experience from assisting with event planning to supplying technical equipment, has taken the plunge and purchased a grandMA3 onPC command wing XT from local MA Lighting distributor, DWR Distribution.

The owner of the company, Chris Norwood, is thrilled. "We are very pleased with the MA3 console," he says. "It's always great to stock well established, reliable brands. As always, the support from DWR is greatly appreciated and everyone on the team is such a pleasure to deal with."

MA Lighting International's grandMA3 onPC command wing XT is a powerful lighting console, providing a versatile control solution for small and medium sized theatres or installations. It is built to the same high quality standards in software and hardware that apply to the entire grandMA3 product line.

Said Duncan Riley of DWR, "We are so chuffed to be part of your journey, Chris. Thank you."
