

Guquko launch new website

Guquko Technical Rider, a strictly dry hire company in South Africa, is pleased to announce the launch of their brand-new website, <https://www.guqukotech.co.za>.

Phumzile Sibanyoni

The young company was established by Phumzile Sibanyoni at the end of 2017, and so far, so good! "The equipment has been working very hard for us," said Sibanyoni. "We were very pleased that our Robe Spiiders and Longman units were used at the Nelson Mandela Annual lecture hosted at the Bidvest Wanderers Stadium in Johannesburg on 17th July." Her stock includes 12 Robe Spiiders, 24 Longman 4 Ups, Prolite stage decks and other accessories such as cabling. "The gear is out most of the weeks and is not gathering dust. That said, it would be great for larger companies to recognize and rent from us to help give us the necessary exposure.

The new website is simple and easy to access. It is backed up by a friendly office team to help with quotations.

As Guquko Technical Rider grows, the aim is to invest in more gear. "We are looking at buying audio equipment, but that's in the pipeline," she said.

Guquko ensures that their equipment is tested and kept in good running order. All gear is also frequently serviced by the local distributor, DWR Distribution, including the replacing of globes.

Support this local dry hire equipment, and visit their website for your next event. Visit:
<https://www.guukotech.co.za>.