

Le Maitre at DWR

Posted on April 28, 2009

28 April 2009

Due to an ever increasing demand, DWR Distribution have included the Le Maitre range of haze machines to our stable.

“The units are road proven,” commented Duncan Riley from DWR. “Le Maitre were one of the first to create smoke machines. We will provide haze machines for now as the units are cost effective and affordable.”

Le Maitre has been manufacturing stage pyrotechnics and smoke and haze machines for thirty years. The company consists of the pyrotechnic factory in Peterborough, the Head Office in Mitcham. The company is responsible for some of the most spectacular and prestigious displays ever staged at world famous venues including Buckingham Palace, Edinburgh Castle, Tower Bridge, Harrods, Wembley Stadium and Hyde Park. They have fired shows all over the world.

From the West End to Hollywood to the Ministry of defence, you'll find Le Maitre smoke machines in service in every imaginable application. They have catered for the complete logistics of international rock and roll tours including Rolling Stones, Take That and Britney Spears to mention a few.