If you've called the DWR Distribution office this week, you may have experienced a lack of staff. Most of the team have been on our Roadshow, while the remaining skeleton crew have purchased a bottle of Jacobs coffee and occasionally order in toasted sandwiches to keep going with the day to day activities at the office!

But, there are a group of boys, the Installation team, who really are hard at work behind the scenes. "It's one thing getting a job but these guys make it happen," said Robert Izzett from DWR Distribution.

Bruce Riley and Michael van Dyk – the Playhouse, DNB. Bruce Riley, JC Du Plessis, Michael van Dyk and Giddion Mpofu are currently in KwaZulu Natal pulling cables for house lights and control at the upgrade of the Playhouse Company. In Johannesburg, Eazy Moeketsi, often with the help of Goodwin Gaidi and Arthur Siko, is at Lynwood Bridge. Simon Ndlovu is also always eager to lend a hand whenever needed.

Eazy Moeketsi Recent installations have included the Trinity Club in Cape Town, Lebone, SAX and Royal Park.

Installations, as everyone knows, often means
