ProAudio Editor, James Ling, to visit SA

ProAudio MEA is generous with publicising South African industry news both on their website and in their magazine. Look out for James Ling, Senior Editor, who will be attending Mediatech this year.

DWR asked him a question:

Q: What 3 famous people, living or dead, would you want at your fantasy dinner party?

A: The three people at my fantasy dinner party would be former Leicester, England and British & Irish Lions captain Martin Johnson who was my absolute hero growing up; Bob Dylan because it was his lyrics that first showed me the power of the written word; and finally, Marie Curie who I think was the most important and inspirational scientist of recent times. It would certainly make for an eclectic conversation, but I would be happy!
