

VuePix visits South Africa

Cuono Biviano, owner of VuePix (centre) with DWR's Schalk Botha and Duncan Riley.

It was a great pleasure to welcome Cuono Biviano, the owner of VuePix and also the managing director of the Australian based ULA Group, to South Africa.

VuePix is a dynamic market leader in LED screen technology and with a dedication to research and development are able to provide a high quality LED display system solution for indoor and outdoor applications.

DWR Distribution are the official distributors of VuePix in South Africa. On his visit Cuono Biviano was able to meet up rental companies MGG Productions, Multi-Media Events, Fogtech, Black Motion and In Harmony Productions, a few of these already stockist of various VuePix models.

VuePix screens are becoming the centrepiece of events and the high-resolution screens are built to impress. "It's adding a new dimension to events and for DWR, it's not only about offering our clients a good product, but having the back up from Cuono and his team. That's what really makes the difference," commented Duncan Riley of DWR. "Needless to say, once Cuono's feet touched African soil, we were in for a treat with a lot of laughter and good times in the mix."

"It was an absolute pleasure to visit DWR and meet all of the remarkable and talented team," said Cuono Biviano. "The facilities were beyond my expectation and the work ethic and comradely between the team was nothing but true to the statement 'It is all about the people'. Meeting some of the key VuePix clients with Duncan and Schalk was truly fantastic. The caliber of the production houses is world class and their respect for VuePix brand is brilliant. It was inspirational to see them using VuePix products in very creative ways for everything from rock & roll concert productions to corporate events. A big thank you goes to DWR for their outstanding support and distribution of VuePix and commitment to their VuePix clients. I look forward to the ongoing growth of VuePix in South Africa."

The visit ended with a trip to a local game park where Cuono could meet up close with a few wild cats. He also had a tour of the Wondercaves, discovered by Italian miners in 1898 and one of the 12 Cradle of Humankind World Heritage sites.

"It was an excellent trip," commented Schalk Botha from DWR. "It was a lot of fun meeting all the clients and everyone had a ball."

