course, earned the prestigious title of Absen Certified Engineer (ACE).

The two-day program provided learners with theoretical and practical learning guidance, equipping them to handle complex LED screen installations. Topics included LED screen theory, control system configuration, maintenance, and more.

“The Absen team worked hard to put together a comprehensive training program that covered everything from the basics of LED displays to advanced troubleshooting techniques,” said Dylan Jones from DWR. “We wanted to make sure that our participants left with a thorough understanding of not just how to use Absen products, but how to use them first hand as well.”

The response received from the participants was overwhelmingly positive, who appreciated the hands-on approach Dylan took to the training, giving them the chance to get up close and personal with the equipment and to really get a feel of how it works.

“We’re already planning our next Absen Inc. ACE Training and we can’t wait to see what the future holds,” Dylan concludes. “If you’re interested in learning more about LED displays and how they can take your business to the next level, we encourage you to sign up. You won’t be disappointed! Thank you also to my team who assisted me to make the day possible, and of course to Absen who are a wonderful support.”
