

Bruce Riley
Head of Technical

Bruce Riley is a Director at DWR Distribution and also heads the Service and Installations Department. With DWR branches in both Durban and Cape Town, he ensures that all back-up, support and service is kept to a high standard. Funnily enough, when any client takes time to write a thank you note, it's usually to thank our Bruce.

Prior to joining DWR Distribution, Bruce worked as a technician at Gearhouse Cape Town. With a humble and easy going attitude, he has great people skills and is friendly and approachable. He has also been instrumental in heading many large installations at the company and his IT knowledge in the office is much appreciated.

On a personal note, Bruce is the son of Dan Riley, and his young family is very important to him. He enjoys spending the day out with his wife, kids and friends on a 4x4 trail and is as happy to spend the day with his head under the Jeep bonnet.
