When 20-20 Lighting was commissioned to service a new sitcom by

Luna Films for SABC, Mauritz Neethling opted for the Avolites Pearl Tiger.

20-20 Lighting provide television lighting for location dramas and productions. Having been awarded to service an Afrikaans studio sitcom, the title of which is to be announced, Mauritz had the task of finding a suitable lighting console within his budget.

He initially phoned Duncan Riley from DWR Distribution for prices, and was somewhat surprised when Duncan and colleague Robert Izzett arrived unexpectedly at his offices within the hour to demo the Tiger! The rest, as they say, is history.
