

In celebration of Youth Day, The Tyrannus Apostolic Church with Apostle Simon Mokoena, an African religion programme broadcasts on SABC 2 and on Soweto TV, hosted a youth discussion. In this episode, young people in the church who had experienced self development were identified. Blackmotion, who themselves have a story to tell about hard work and success, were the technical suppliers of the show.

Kagiso Moima and Monase

Kubayi, Blackmotion. Blackmotion is expanding. In January this year, Monase Kubayi, straight out of university, has a lot of room to grow and lots of room to learn. It's never imagine that she has a traditional background,

The client gave Blackmotion their brief, a simplistic, minimalistic set that would not override the purpose of the event.

spot 250ATs, four spot 250ATs were

“I used the Avolites Tiger Touch and oh baby...”, said Kagiso Moima (KG), director at Blackmotion. “I was the lighting operator for this shoot and the client was dumbfounded with the end product.”

Youth Day on 16

a government edict way since and

“Starting this company has been the greatest challenge that could ever have happened,” commented KG. “At the same time success has not been something that was given to us on a silver platter . You still have to apply your mind and what you have learnt. But nothing beats that mentality, you're going to have your own freedom of expertise and you will dictate your own economic freedom."

